ONE OF MEDICINE'S MOST INCREDIBLE MOMENTS

In 1922, at the University of Toronto, scientists went to a hospital ward with children who were comatose and dying from diabetic keto-acidosis. Imagine a room full of parents sitting at the bedside waiting for the inevitable death of their child. The scientists went from bed to bed and injected the children with the new purified extract - insulin. As they began to inject the last comatose child, the first child injected began to awaken. One by one, all of the children awoke from their diabetic comas. A room of death and gloom, became a place of joy and hope.

A PROCLAMATION

Every human life is a gift to the world. Whether born or unborn, young or old, healthy or sick, every person is made in the holy image of God. The Almighty Creator gives unique talents, beautiful dreams, and a great purpose to every person. On National Sanctity of Human Life Day, we celebrate the wonder of human existence and renew our resolve to build a culture of life where every person of every age is protected, valued, and cherished.

BIDEN COMMITTED TO ABORTION

The Biden administration will work to codify Roe v. Wade in federal law and will nominate judges who respect that landmark decision, President Biden said Friday in a statement on the 48th anniversary of Roe v. Wade.

The statement repeated promises Biden had made as a candidate, although it was the first time, he addressed the subject as president. The statement also criticized the Trump administration's policy on abortion. The White House said the statement was from Biden and Vice President Kamala Harris.

"In the past four years, reproductive health, including the right to choose, has been under relentless and extreme attack," the statement said. "We are deeply committed to making sure everyone has access to care – including reproductive health care – regardless of income, race, zip code, health insurance status, or immigration status."

"The Biden-Harris Administration is committed to codifying Roe v. Wade and appointing judges that respect foundational precedents like Roe," the statement said. "We are also committed to ensuring that we work to eliminate maternal and infant health disparities, increase access to contraception, and support families economically so that all parents can raise their families with dignity. This commitment extends to our critical work on health outcomes around the world."

It concluded, "As the Biden-Harris Administration begins in this critical moment, now is the time to rededicate ourselves to ensuring that all individuals have access to the health care they need." A bill codifying Roe v. Wade in law that is passed by Congress and signed by Biden presumably would keep abortion legal nationwide even if the U.S. Supreme Court overturns Roe.

The 160-word statement did not mention the word "abortion" – a fact not overlooked by some pro-life activists. "Guess what word isn't even mentioned in Biden and Harris's statement affirming Roe v. Wade on today's anniversary of the ruling?" tweeted Karen Swallow Prior, a professor at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary. "If you can't bring yourself to even say it, then maybe"

TOUGH QUESTIONS TOUGH CHALLENGES

A piece of writing is an offering that you bring into view and hope it will be accepted. There are many better than you; but your devotion to your points of view is your mission. You hope at least that criticism or harsh rejection will not turn you into a raging Cain."

BY STEVE SNELL

Now Adam knew Eve his wife, and she bore him Cain, saying, “I have gotten a man with the help of the Lord.” And again, she bore his brother Abel. Now Abel was a keeper of sheep, Cain a worker of the ground. In the course of time Cain brought the Lord an offering of the fruit of the ground, and Abel also brought of the firstborn of his flock and of their fat portions. And the Lord had regard for Abel and his offering, but for Cain and his offering he had no regard. So, Cain was truly angry, and his face fell. Genesis 4:1-26

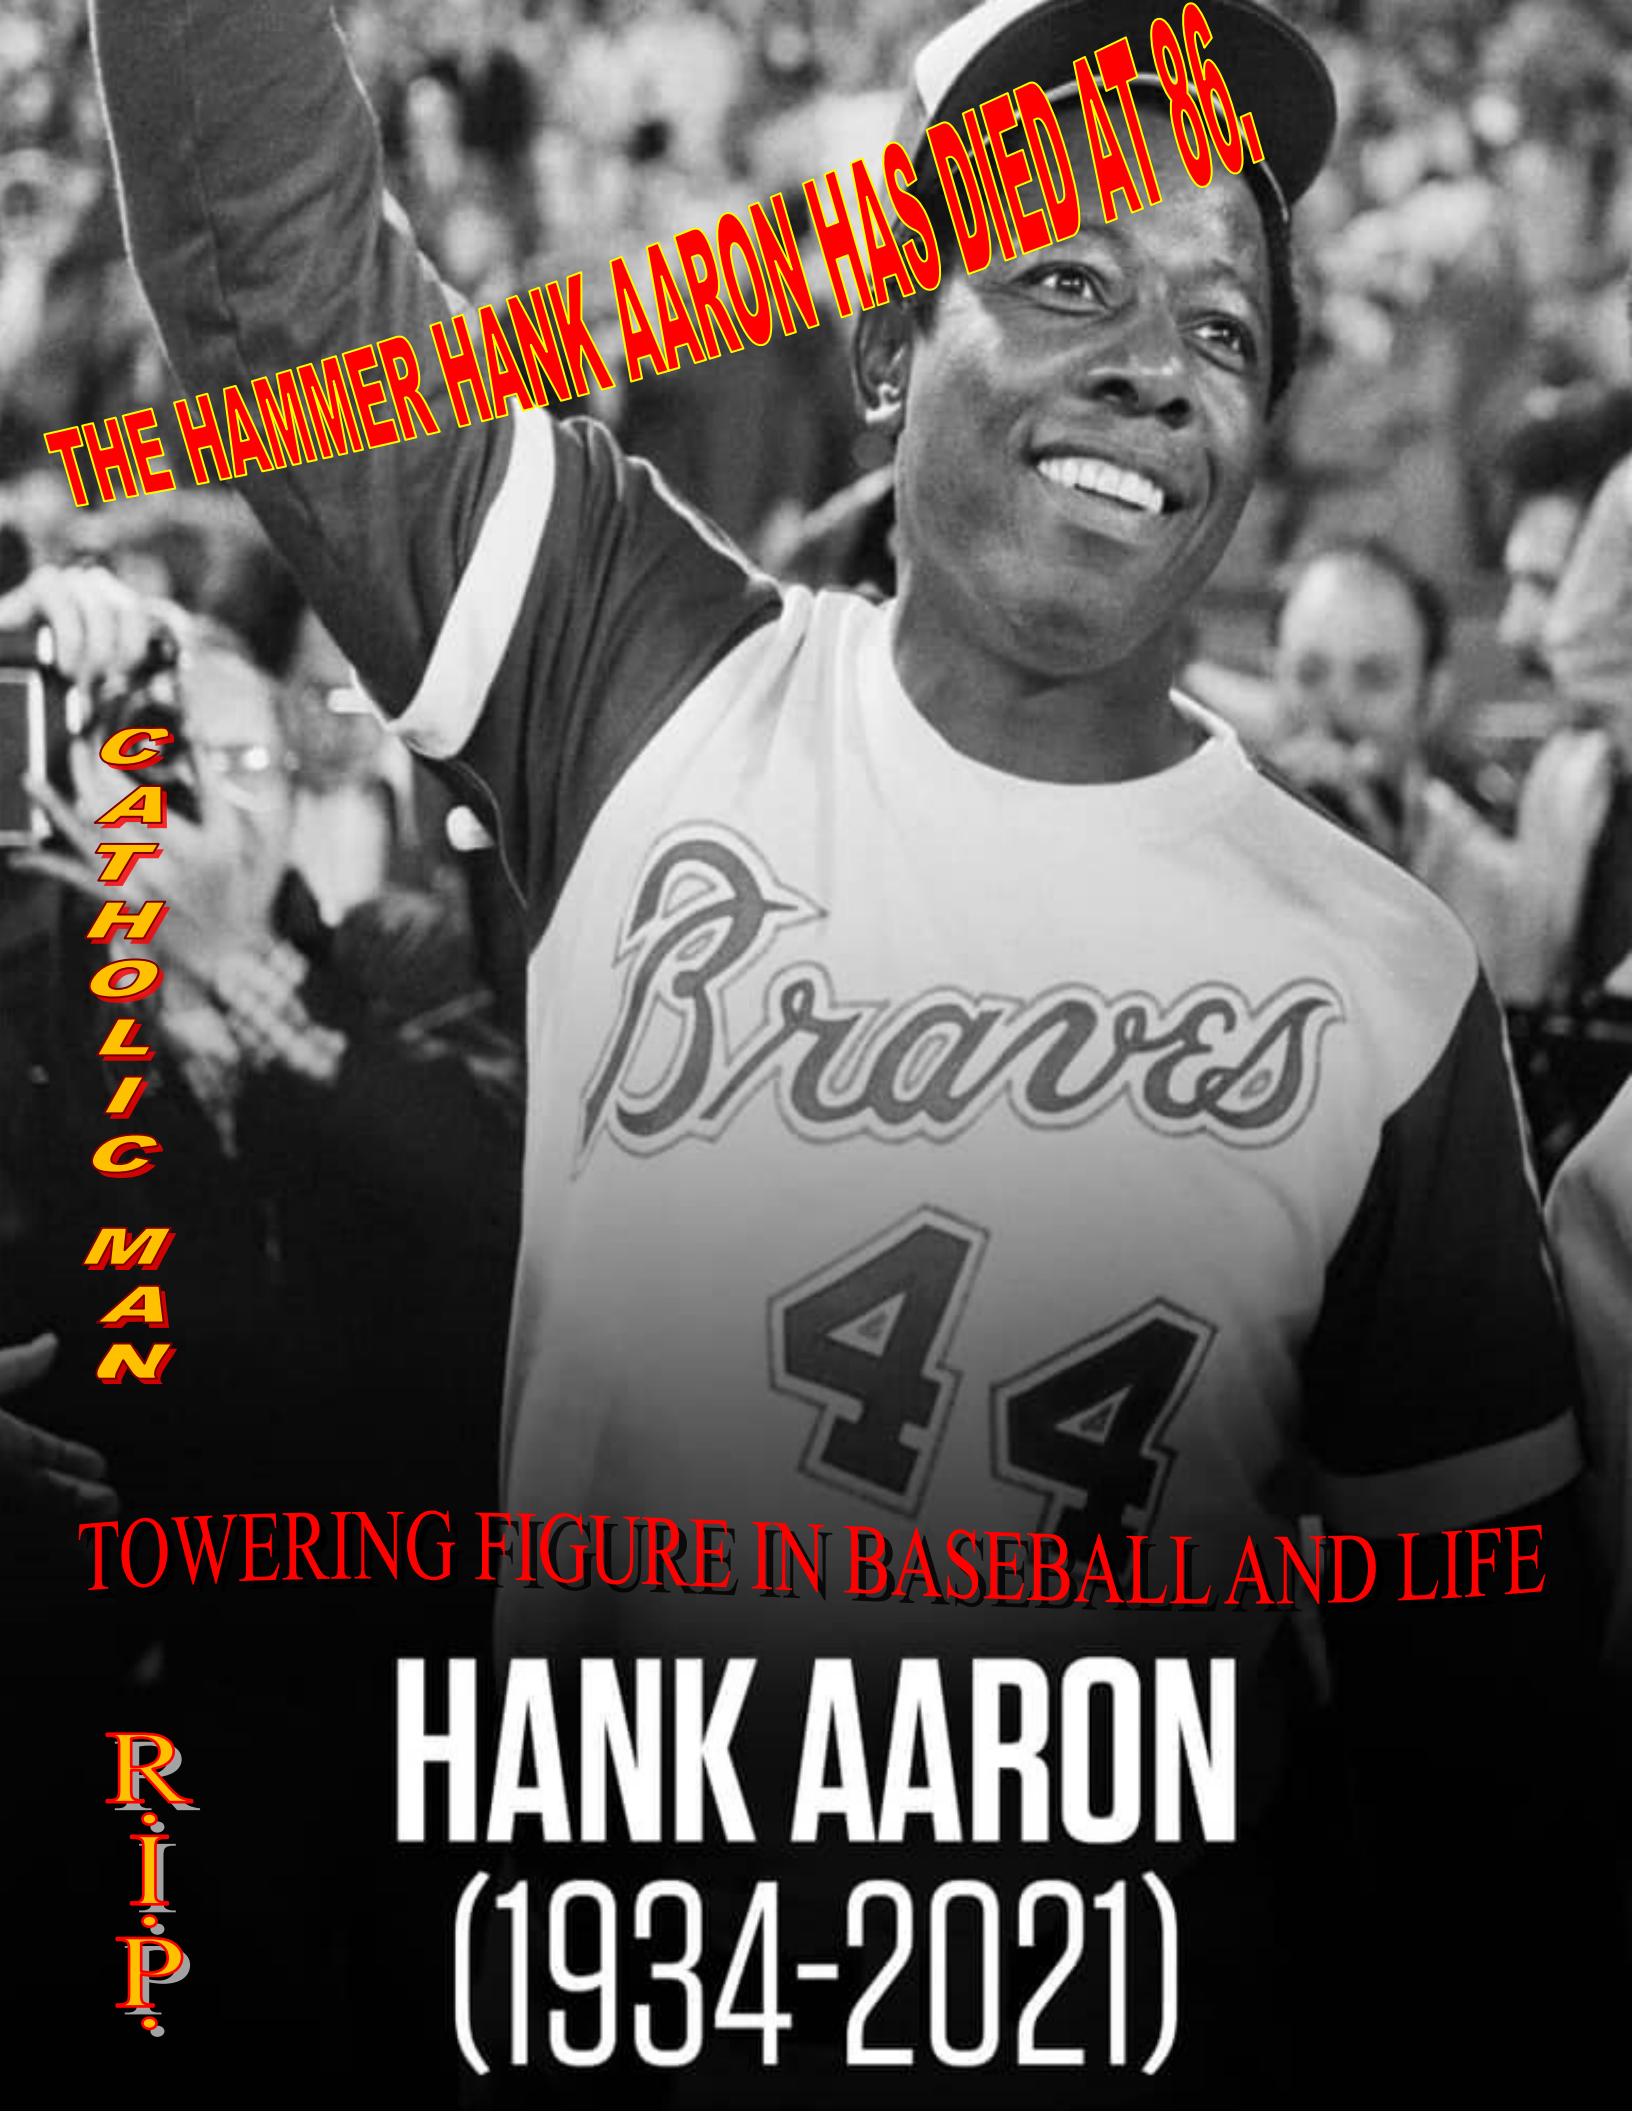

Cain, who is in competition with his brother, is overwhelmed; he is maddened by his brother's perfection. It dawns on him that Abel has been chosen to be God's favorite, His instrument. By comparison he is confronted, for the first time apparently, with his own mediocrity, despite his longing to serve and his professed devotion to the Creator. In anger, in fury, he turns to God. He implores: “Why implant the desire to serve and then withhold the talent to do it?”

Hmmm..... Well, I must admit that is a thought that has crossed my mind, and perhaps many others have also faced. Mediocrity could be viewed as a personal affliction; in my case it is an ever-present yoke. I find great solace that, the grace and power of Jesus makes any affliction livable, any goal reachable, and any dream possible.

Are you sitting there a prisoner of your own limitations, you have tried but never seem to meet the challenge, never give in, it is not beyond you, you lose only when you quit trying. Step up to the challenge.

Translation; work for Christ with all your heart and talent, the greater your challenges the greater your award. Vivat Jesus

TOP TEN SENIOR COMMANDMENTS

TOP TEN SENIOR COMMANDMENTS

1. Talk to yourself. There are times you need expert advice.
2. "In Style" are the clothes that still fit.
3. You do not need anger management. You need people to stop making you mad.
4. Your people skills are fine. It is your tolerance for idiots that needs work.
5. The biggest lie you tell yourself is, I don't need to write that down. I will remember it.
6. "On time" is when you get there.
7. Even duct tape cannot fix stupid – but it sure does muffle the sound.
8. It would be wonderful if we could put ourselves in the dryer for ten minutes, then come out wrinkle-free and three sizes smaller?
9. Lately, you've noticed people your age are so much older than you.
10. Growing old should have taken longer.
11. Aging has slowed you down, but it has not shut you up.
12. You still have not learned to act your age & hope you never will.

And one more: "One for the road" means going to the bathroom before you leave the house.

Our Pro-Life Commitment

The Order has long stood at the forefront of the movement to protect human life — and that legacy continues

By Supreme Knight Carl A. Anderson 1/1/2021

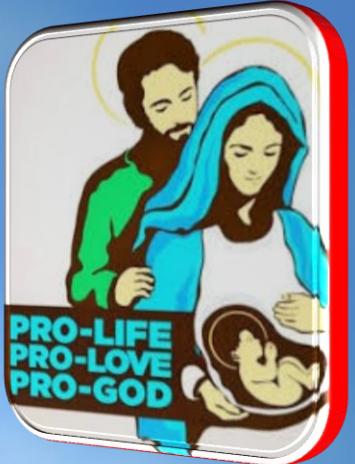

TAKE THIS OCCASION to recount how, for the past five decades, the Knights of Columbus has been a leader in the pro-life movement. In 1974, Knights helped organize the first March for Life in Washington, D.C. The next year, we provided $50,000 to the U.S. bishops to support their pastoral pro-life efforts. We continue our partnership with both the March for Life and the bishops' Committee on Pro-Life Activities to this day.

In 1976, Supreme Knight John McDevitt said that “killing innocent human life is so monumental an injustice” that we must not be “lulled into acceptance of this evil,” and instead must work to reverse the Supreme Court’s 1973 Roe v. Wade decision. The Knights of Columbus has consistently called for that “exercise in raw judicial power” to be overturned, and we have supported both the Hyde Amendment to limit tax dollars to pay for abortion and the Mexico City Policy to stop promoting abortion in U.S. foreign aid programs.

More recently, we added several initiatives essential to building a culture of life.

The first began with the Sisters of Life. In 1998, their founder, John Cardinal O’Connor, hoped that one day the sisters would have a retreat center that would be “a place of peace, a place of tranquility, a place of light and refreshment, a place of love.” That dream became reality in 2004 when the Knights of Columbus established Villa Maria Guadalupe in Stamford, Conn. The center, operated by the Sisters of Life, is a source of healing for many, including women experiencing the aftermath of abortion. Thousands of lives have been changed and many saved by the Sisters of Life, who help courageous women choose life despite all odds.

Second, in 2008, we began an annual national survey on abortion with the Marist Poll to understand public attitudes on abortion and help shape the national debate. In a series of groundbreaking findings, our polling showed that, among other things, 3 out of 4 Americans — including 6 out of 10 of those who describe themselves as “pro-choice” — want significant restrictions on abortion. The conclusion: The unlimited abortion mandate of Roe v. Wade is not supported by most Americans.

Then, in 2009, we began our Ultrasound Initiative to place new ultrasound machines in pregnancy resource centers. We have since placed more than 1,300 ultrasound machines worth over $60 million. Through this program, we have helped save hundreds of thousands of unborn children. Our program is building the culture of life one heart and one child at a time.

The defense of the unborn is a preeminent priority for the Knights of Columbus because abortion is the killing of innocent children on a massive scale.

Roe v. Wade will ultimately fail because it is based on the falsehood that we do not know that the child before birth is a human being. And because it is false, we have worked to overturn it; to mobilize national protests against it; to educate the public about it; to help women heal who have been hurt by it; to help keep more women from being hurt; and to rescue unborn children from its deadly consequences.

Vivat Jesus!

Please pray for Pullman Sacred Heart Council 7360's Grand Knight Dan Jinguji, who died in a traffic accident Sunday night on I-5 near his home in Seattle. Please pray for his family and friends, also.

Dan joined Sacred Heart Council 7360 in August 2016, when he moved here from Seattle to study at WSU. He completed work on his master's in music, and a doctorate in computer science. At the parish he sang and directed the music at several masses and helped with liturgy planning. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus and had been the Grand Knight since 2019. Dan taught catechism classes for children and helped with RCIA classes for adults. When we began livestreaming the masses in March of 2020, he helped figure out how to do that. He took care of any copyright issues with our YouTube videos, and helped set up the sound system for our outdoor masses in the summer. And many other things!

In September of 2020 he took a job as full-time faculty in Information Technology at Edmonds College. He moved back to Seattle but continued to commute to Pullman most Sundays. He ran the sound board and sometimes the video for our parking lot masses and continued to sing and help in many ways. He was kind, considerate, and a good listener. We are shocked and saddened by his sudden death. He will be very much missed.

THE LOSS

A powerful force in my chest
Clamps over and takes
My heart in a powerful squeeze
And squeezes till it breaks

A loving force enters my chest
With patience and a love like glue,
Encircles my heart until
It is almost whole and new.

I know by now almost all
Broken hearts will mend.
But as I wait for the loss to mend,

The hurt!

The hurt!

Oh, the hurt!

Supreme Knight Anderson, Virginia State Deputy Edward Polich (left) and local Knights present the Order's 1,000th ultrasound machine donation to Alexandra Luevano, director of the Mother of Mercy Free Medical Clinic in Manassas, Va., in January 2019. Bishop Michael Burbidge of Arlington blessed the machine. Supreme Knight Carl Anderson has advocated for the dignity and rights of unborn children for more than 50 years. These decades of work for the pro-life cause were recognized Jan. 29 when the March for Life Education and Defense Fund honored him with its 2021 Pro-Life Legacy Award.

March for Life President Jeanne Mancini presented the award during the organization's annual Rose Dinner, held virtually this year.

"No one has done more to advance the pro-life cause than Carl Anderson," Mancini said. "He is a true pro-life warrior, and his work and tireless dedication to the cause is an example to us."

Brother Knights,

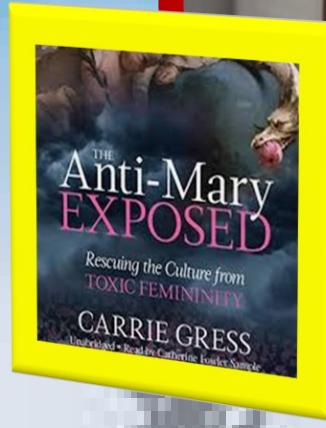

It is with great sadness that I bring news about Brother Knight Les Emory. Les returned to our Lord on Tuesday, Jan. 26. When his health was good, he could be seen brewing the first pot of coffee at our Sunday coffee & donuts and he was always there to help us flip burgers at the parish events. He was an active Knight and will be missed.

We are in communication with the parish funeral committee and will let everyone know when we have more information.

Bestselling Catholic book banned without explanation for violating Facebook policies

The book examines the origins of the destructive anti-Marian spirit that has ravaged modern society

February 1, 2020 (LifeSiteNews) — Jointly owned Facebook and Instagram have banned the selling of the book “The Anti-Mary Exposed: Rescuing the Culture from Toxic Femininity,” by Catholic author Carrie Gress, because it “doesn’t comply with” their commerce policies.

The book investigates the origins of an “anti-Marian spirit” that has embraced abortion and “destroyed the lives of countless men, women, and children.” It recently trended as a #1 best-seller in Feminist Theory on Amazon.

Gress shared on her Instagram page that Facebook has flagged posts featuring the book across multiple accounts and Instagram, which is owned by Facebook, has also prohibited Gress from selling the book. Neither platform explained why the book violated their commerce policies.

Interest in the book spiked after social media users learned it was being banned.

NEW SUPREME KNIGHT

Dear Brother Knights

It is my great honor and joy to announce that Deputy Supreme Knight Patrick E. Kelly has been elected to succeed me and become the 14th Supreme Knight of the Knights of Columbus.

As you may know, the by-laws of the Supreme Council require that Supreme Officers retire at the end of the month of their 70th birthday. In anticipation of my reaching that milestone later this month, the Supreme Directors are meeting virtually today and have just elected Brother Kelly as my successor, effective March 1st.

We will be truly blessed to have Patrick Kelly assume leadership of the Order. His knowledge, experience and devotion to the faith make him exceedingly well-suited to continue our mission in these challenging times. I could not be more enthusiastic about transferring my duties to Brother Kelly.

In the coming weeks, the Supreme Knight-elect and I will be working closely to ensure a smooth transition and I look forward to continuing to serve the Order and to fully support my successor as Past Supreme Knight.

When I became Supreme Knight in the year 2000, I told my brother Knights that “the best is yet to come!” Reflecting on the past twenty years, and the achievements made possible by contributions of so many Knights of Columbus leaders like you, I know I was not mistaken. Today, with equal confidence, I believe we can all still say that for the Knights of Columbus — the best is yet to come!

Fraternally,

Carl A. Anderson
Supreme Knight

FLOWERS SOMETIMES NEED THORNS

By STEVE SNELL

In our world today, the politically correct school of deep feeling, sensitivity and tolerance has been advocating that compassion should be shown to the law breakers rather than the victims, (how do they not feel the same way for the millions of victims (unborn babies) they allow to be disposed of,) what is the cause of this reversal of justice? The loss of common sense, the loss of a moral sense.

We are quickly approaching the time when there will be no standard of right or wrong outside of what the individual, political party, or extremist group wants for themselves. I wonder if there is a danger in being intimidated by flamboyantly aggressive PC warriors. While I understand and respect human life, brothers this is not a food fight in the cafeteria, this is dangerous stuff. I do not believe as a nation or a religion that we should ignore our own self-defense; at this point the rest of society may become defenseless against the attacks of looters and media radicals with self-proclaimed superiority, who push their own set of self-centered values, values and ideas that place us all in danger. If we allow this deterioration of values to take place, then we may someday be faced with the hard reality that the value system that will prevail is the one that possess the skills and the cultural ruthlessness necessary for the task of disarming and destroying their enemy.

Brothers we must be willing to stand up strong for our beliefs, for unborn babies, family values, our country, and our freedoms. I am just saying that we MUST be the guardians of our values.

Flowers need thorns to protect them.

Deputy Supreme Knight Patrick E. Kelly addressed the Feb. 5 meeting of the Knights of Columbus Board of Directors, during which he was elected the Order's 14th Supreme Knight. Below are excerpts from his remarks.

THIRD-GENERATION KNIGHT

"Inspiring the next generation of Knights is personal for me. I am a third-generation Knight. My grandfather joined the Order in 1915 before he left for World War I. My father was a faithful member of the council at our parish up until his death. And I joined the Order as a College Knight. I know how much we have to offer young men. And I know the Order's mission is the same now as it was more than 100 years ago, when my grandfather joined. Our mission is to strengthen Catholic men."

STRENGTHENING FAMILY LIFE

"We are advancing this mission in difficult times. The family is under more intense pressure now than at any time in our history. Fathers are trying to build healthy marriages and raise their children in the faith amid a culture that is working against them. I believe the Lord is calling us to place an even higher priority on caring for the spiritual lives of men specifically as husbands and fathers. Blessed Michael McGivney established the Knights to strengthen Catholic families, and that is what we must do now in new ways."

UNITY IN A TIME OF DIVISION

"The Order remains a symbol of unity within the Church. Now is the time to build on that reputation. We have long been known as the strong right arm of the Church, and with that strength, we can be a gentle but firm guide. ... Unity is the Order's second principle, and as Knights, we can, we must, and we will be a source of unity in these divided times."

SUPPORTING COUNCIL ACTIVITIES

"We have a fundamental goal of supporting, strengthening and honoring every individual Knight and every council. The health of our Order lies there — in our brother Knights and in our councils. They are the ones who distribute coats to kids, sponsor free throw contests, raise money for ultrasounds and wheelchairs, and lead their parish in care for their neighbor. They are the core of our identity, the witness that serves as the foundation for everything else we do."

OUR FOUNDER'S WITNESS

"I would like to turn to the witness of Blessed Michael McGivney. And I would like to acknowledge with gratitude the work of our Worthy Supreme Knight who skillfully led us to the moment of beatification. We are now actively engaged in praying and working to raise our founder to the dignity of the altar, if that be God's will. His cause is a source of great passion and pride for all of us."

A BROTHERHOOD OF FAITH

"It is often said the Knights have what men need. I believe it's also true that the Knights are what men want. We are a community of purpose — a brotherhood of faith — and a force for good for the things that matter most. The Order was made for the moment we are in, as a Church, as a country, as families and as men."

IN LOVING MEMORY OF WARREN FOERSCH

The Knights of Columbus Pend Oreille Council 14268 is proud to present a Special Edition of our Knight Talk publication dedicated in loving memory of our dearly departed brother, Warren Foersch. Warren was our Past Grand Knight and was always active in church, council, and community events. Warren passed away on 15 Dec 2020. He has been sorely missed by all the Knights, St. Anthony parishioners and, of course, his many friends and family members. Please enjoy this nice collection of pictures of Warren, his family and the numerous work and KC activities he was part of.

Col. Warren Foresch was the Commanding Officer of the Culver Military Academy in Culver, In., his last duty assignment as a U.S. Marine Officer.

I HAVE COME TO GREET YOU

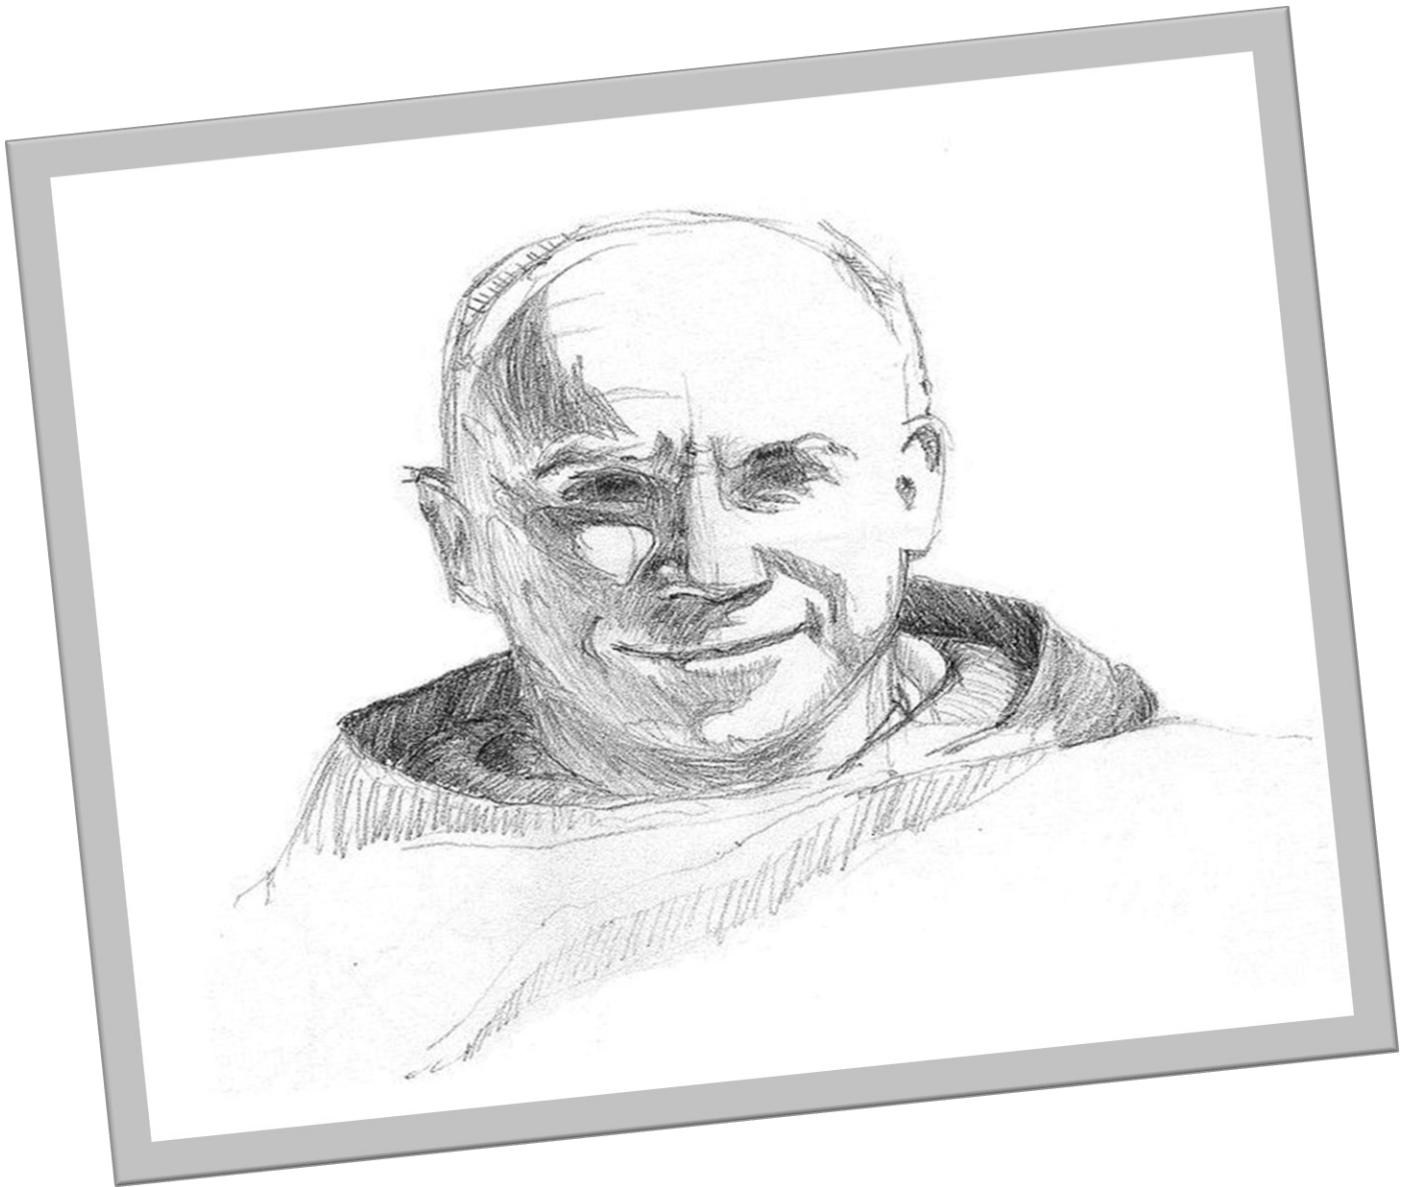

A man from Texas who does carpentry work, every morning, passes in front of a Church on his way to work. One day he took the decision that he must go into the Church at the chapel to greet JESUS before going to his work.

So, each day he passes the Church he will go to the chapel and say "JESUS I 'm here to greet you" he did this for many years, and it became part of him. One day he went to work as usual and fell from the roof where he was working and had a spinal cord injury, he was taken to many hospitals and there was no remedy to his health, and he became paralyzed.

One day at the hospital where he was on his sickbed without hope, his wife left him alone in the room to bring something from the house. A man who dressed in white walked into the room and greeted him saying, "my friend I have come to greet you. JESUS came to visit him since he could not come to visit Him as usual. And the sick man said Thank You, the visitor left, and this man started to notice changes on his body, and to his greatest surprise, he got up and sat down on the bed still thinking if it was a dream when his wife came and saw him sitting down, she thought it was a Ghost and raised alarm ran out from the room. The Doctor and Nurses rushed to the room thinking the sick man is dead, when the Doctor first entered and saw the man sitting comfortably, he also ran back, before he decided to ask him what happened and the healed man told him all that happened, He was visiting JESUS daily for many years but one singular visit by JESUS changed his hopelessness to joy!

THOMAS MERTON

"I AM FULLY REAL IF MY OWN HEART SAYS YES TO EVERYONE."

"Merton was above all a man of prayer, a thinker who challenged the certitudes of his time and opened new horizons for souls and for the Church. He was also a man of dialogue, a promoter of peace between peoples and religions." – Pope Francis

LIFE DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

We are in the third month of 2021 and already we see a new world. The political climate is so different from the past four years. The way we work and the way we communicate is so different that we feel we must be in the 22nd century. So many of the things we have been forced to do have many benefits and the way we live will be changed for the better. Who would have thought! We have been forced to communicate virtually, and we see how much more effective and efficient we can do things. We no longer must spend one hour driving to and from a meeting that lasts only 45 minutes.

Some things on the other hand have left a bit to be desired. The annual March for Life in Washington DC is a good example. Hundreds of thousands of pro-life advocates who normally attend the march had to watch on television or tune in virtually. A lot of the experience and impact was lost. The annual Washington state march was similar in that it was only available virtually. Don't get me wrong the March for Life organizations did a fantastic job making it possible to hold their events virtually. We would certainly have preferred to be able to have a public demonstration for LIFE!!

Now more than ever we need to actively live pro-life. We need to increase prayer. It is a good time to begin saying a daily family rosary. We can also use the requirements of COVID-19 to grow our prayer life. As an example, if you need to wash your hands for 20 seconds say an Our Father and a Hail Mary . You can do the same thing with other tasks and design a prayer of a length to accomplish the task. I have embraced this idea to apply to gardening, a true love of mine. I say a different series of prayers to water my plants. I enjoy watering the garden and have found my life is so much more prayer oriented. Our parish Respect for Life community now meets virtually and have recently started a virtual Rosary that has been great. We have a moderator who leads the Rosary saying the beginning and closing prayers as well as the response to the Our Father and Hail Mary's. We rotate the leader for each decade and the moderator says the response. The other participants remain muted so that all can hear clearly. Give it a try!!

Remember to get the youth of your parish, including Catholic Schools, CCD and Home Schoolers involved with our statewide poster and essay contests. The rules and instructions are posted on the website under the Life Program at the bottom of the homepage.

We will be celebrating the Feast of the Annunciation, also known as the Feast of the Incarnation or Conception Christi on Thursday, March 25. This is an ideal time to celebrate “Beginnings of Life” by hosting a Family Rosary Night and pray for the Unborn.

God Bless,
